

Death of Ellizur Wright.
NEW YORK, November 23d. — Ellizur Wright, the noted Abolitionist, is dead.
[Ellizur Wright was born in South Canaan, Litchfield, Conn., February 12, 1804. He removed with his father to Tallmadge, Ohio, in 1816, where he lived until 1830.]

1820, where he lived on a farm until 1822, when he entered Yale College, and was graduated in 1826. He taught two years at Groton, Mass., and for four years was Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in the Western Reserve College, Hudson, Ohio. He removed to New York in 1833, and became Secretary of the American Anti-Slavery Society, and remained in that position five years.

tion five years. He was editor of several Abolition journals, and was editor of the Boston Commonwealth in 1850. Mr. Wright subsequently published a popular translation in verse of "L. Fontaine's Fables." He was appointed to the office of Insurance Commissioner of Massachusetts in 1853.]

NEW YORK, November 23d.—Referring to the novel steamboat which the Secors are building, and which has been visited within a few days by scientific men from all over new class of scientific men from different parts of the country, the Tribune says: "The boat is to be launched within a few days. The propelling power is to be obtained by the continuous explosion of gas, but how the force is to be applied is a secret. The intimation is that it will be in a way similar to that of the steam engine."

lar to that which drives a rocket through the air. Great speed at little expense is the end desired. The inventor of the new motor has unbounded faith in it. He says the force will be applied against the water from the stern by a gradual, powerful pressure.

the same as the explosion of the gases of the rocket against the more yielding and elastic atmosphere.

A Rascal Hunted Down.

NEW YORK, November 23d.—P. M. I. Sheppard, for thirty-five years cashier of the freight department of the New York

The freight department of the New York Central Railway at Buffalo, passed through New York to day en route for Buffalo, in the custody of detectives. In June, 1888 Sheppard suddenly left Buffalo, a defaulter for $27,000. He was traced to Winnipeg but could not be arrested for want of extradition treaty. After swindling a Montreal cigar manufacturer, he returned to the United States, and was traced through towns in New York and Massachusetts to Waldo, Fla., where, when arrested, he had established himself as the proprietor of an orange plantation.

Monument Unveiled.
Boston, November 23d.—A monument erected in honor of Edward Kelly, the Irish leader, sentenced to be hanged, drawn and quartered in 1687, was unveiled at Mount Hope Cemetery this afternoon.

Two Hotel Guests Asphyxiated.
BALTIMORE, November 23d.—Saturday night C. A. Thorpe, of Perryville, and White, of Frenchtown, took rooms at hotel in this city, and upon retiring blew out the gas. They died this morning.

Wyoming Democrats.
CHEYENNE, November 23d.—The Territorial Democratic Committee, in session

Laramie City, to-day elected Colonel Lull Murrin, of Cheyenne, Chairman for the ensuing year by a unanimous vote. Colonel Murrin has been a member of the committee for many years.

NEW YORK, November 23d—11 A. M. The week opened with a feverish, irregular and very weak stock market, the decline ranging between $\frac{1}{2}$ and 2 $\frac{1}{2}$, the latter Jersey Central, but Reading and Lackawanna were off $\frac{1}{2}$ each and others to fraction amounts. During the first three days the declines from the opening figures in Pacific Mail, which was only $\frac{1}{2}$ lower at the opening, but which fell $2\frac{1}{2}$. Lake Shore and St. Paul each declined $\frac{1}{2}$, New York Central $\frac{1}{2}$, Northern Pacific preferred $\frac{1}{2}$, Nor-western 1½ and Union Pacific ¼. Toward 11 o'clock the market became more steady and in some cases a portion of the early losses was recovered. At 11 o'clock the market was active, but irregular, and generally weak.

NEW YORK, November 23d.—Stocks have been less active during the past hour. For a time after 11 o'clock prices were strong and advanced $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{4}$, with a gain of 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ on Pacific Mail and New York Central. Later they became weak and most of the earlier gains were lost. At 11 o'clock the market

NEW YORK, November 23d.—Central Pacific, 44; Burlington, 135; Northern Pacific, 28½; Northern Pacific preferred, 6; Northwestern, 113; New York Central, 102; Oregon Navigation, 106; Transcontinentals

34½; Pacific Mail, 66½; Panama, 98; S. Louis and San Francisco, 22½; Texas Pacific, 22½; Union Pacific, 58½; Wells-Fargo's Express, 117; Western Union, 76½.

NEW YORK, November 23d—3 P. M. After midday stocks became weaker, with greater activity. About 1 o'clock declines were checked, and small advances were made, but by 2 o'clock the market was again weak. After 2:30 p. m. it became generally strong, and advanced $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$. The advance, however, was not maintained, the close and the market being about the same.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Balkan War.

BELOGRADE, November 22d. — Only trifling skirmishes took place to-day between the Servians and Bulgarians, as both sides awaited reinforcements. The Servians are preparing for a powerful bombardment of Slivnitsa prior to the attack of infantry on the town. Meanwhile the popular hatred of the Bulgarians has dwindled, owing to Prince Alexander's submission to the Porte. The hopes of a final victory are fading away, and there is much depression. Foreign intervention is eagerly hoped for. Owing to the strength of the forts at Slivnitze and their obstinate resistance, the inza, and their obstinate resistance, the Servians call that town Plevniza, or "Little Plevna." Foreign diplomatic representatives are of the opinion that the Powers are about to intervene between Servia and Bulgaria. Both sides have suffered enough, while the results are undetermined.

cided. Austria alone hesitates. The Russian Government has requested the Serbian Minister at St. Petersburg to notify the Government of Russia's formal disavowal of the conduct of the Servians.

THE OUTLOOK IN GREECE.

ATHENS, November 23d.—General Sapundakie, commander of the first army corps which is encamped at Larissa, is waiting for orders to cross the frontier and advance on Salonica. The Greeks in lower Macedonia are rising, and forming a force of

BOMBARDMENT OF WIDDIN.

LONDON, November 23d.—The bombardment of Widdin continued for an hour without any decisive result. The Bulgarians replied vigorously to the Serbian

PRINCE ALEXANDER TO HIS FATHER.

DARMSTADT, November 23d. — Prince Alexander has sent a dispatch to his father saying: "We fought all Sunday, and spent the night on Dragoman heights, which we carried by storm. The fighting con-

PRINCE ALEXANDER REQUESTS DELAY.
CONSTANTINOPLE, November 23d.—Prince Alexander has requested the Porte to postpone sending a Commissioner to Eastern Roumelia until the termination of the war.

He says that as a soldier he can only propose an armistice when within Servian territory.

was forced to retreat by the failure of the commissariat service. He will remain on duty at the frontier until the arrival of General Leshjonin's division and the rest of the reserves.

continually since Sunday morning. Every available vehicle is utilized for transportation purposes.

PREPARING FOR A FINAL ATTEMPT.

LONDON, November 23d.—A dispatch to the Standard from Solenci opposite Slinitz, dated 1 o'clock Monday morning, says that King Milan and Premier Garofalo had arrived at headquarters. The Serbian army was drawn up facing the enemy, and was preparing for a final attempt to break through and force its way

THE SERVIAN RETREAT.

LONDON, November 24th.—A. M.—A dispatch from Belgrade to the Daily Telegraph says: The Servians have evacuated all the positions hitherto occupied by them. Drag-

[CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE.]

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor discoloration and a horizontal crease near the top edge. A dark, irregular stain is visible along the bottom edge, possibly from a binding or another page. The overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

